Rally Saved Punahou From Defeat--Score Two All.

BY A. S. E.

The third of the series of Association Football games under the League auspices took place yesterday afternoon between the Mailes and Punahou at Baseball Park. A good number of spectators was in attendance, showing the growing interest in the new game. The high quality of play was well sustained throughout, although both teams were some time in settling down to their true form. However, as time progressed, the contest became keener and when the Mailes drew first blood, with a well combined effort, both elevens were upon their mettle. One of the most promising signs of the establishment of the game, was the rapid development of good play among many of the new recruits of the game.

Among the latter are to be particularly noticed Judd and Pa of the Punahou whose display throughout would have been creditable for old players. At half time the Mailes were leading by one goal and upon the commencement of play the efforts of the Punahou to draw even with their opponents were determined and continual. Fortune was, however, against them and within ten minutes the Mailes again scored and established a lead which apparently made their victory assured.

The Punahou had all their time been gathering strength and after the ball was again started, by a combined play of the whole forward line, the Maile defense was beaten and Catton scored by a well directed shot. A few minutes only remained for play, but the Punahou rising to the occasion, again asserted themselves, and after some very pretty combinations, Cockburn found the net, making the score even. The enthusiasm of the spectators by this time was keen, but almost as soon as the ball was again kicked off, time was called, and the game resulted in a draw of two goals all. The last ten minutes saw play as closely contested as has yet been seen in Honolulu and the Punahou are to be congratulated in pulling the game from the fire at the last moment.

PLAY IN DETAIL.

The two teams lined up punctually at 3:15—the Mailes were unfortunately without two of their best men—Mayall and Beardmore, but this was in part compensated by the loss of J. Catton to the Punahou who is reported as nursing an injured toe. His place was capably filled by Pa, a very promising young player.

FIRST HALF.

The Mailes won the toss and elected to defend the makai goal. As soon as the game was started, both teams appeared over anxious, and an exchange of high kicking took place among the opposing backs. Soper, Andrew and McGill being chiefly noticeable. The combination of both teams at this stage of the game was decidedly faulty, and neither side retained possession of the ball long. The Mailes in particular seem handicapped by playing men in their half back line who are accustomed to the full-back position and long kicking. The result was in each team that the forwards were not properly "fed" by the halves and the quality of play may be described as "ragged." Another feature which contributed to the general mediocrity was the fact that the costumes of each team were very similar and to on-looker and player alike, the difficulty of distinguishing friend and foe was great. As each eleven was wearing the correct colors of two old classic clubs, it seems invidious to recommend a change, but if the Mailes could be induced to wear a green blouse, with yellow collar, etc., the confusion might be obviated.

THE AMERICAN FIRST PLACE WINNERS IN HARVARD-YALE-OXFORD-CAMBRIDGE-DUAL ATHLETIC MEET.

The right wing of the Maile team was the one most in evidence for some time, but their attacks were frustrated by the able defense of Clark, McCarriston and Soper. Both the former players are developing considerably into reliable men, but Clark's kicking is erratic at times and needs more effort to pass to his forwards. Catterall, the quondam Pacific forward, was playing a grand game, ably supported by his two wing men. At length the Punahou forwards broke away and some clever play on the part of Cockburn, Campbell and R. Catton resulted in an unproductive corner. The ball was now kept in the Maile territory and Guild and Anderson were given plenty to do, but proved equal to the emergency although McRitchie was once called into requisition. The Maile forwards now took the aggressive and Fiddes with one of his far-famed rushes invaded the enemy's territory and passed the ball deftly to the right wing. Churton ably seconded and the effort was rewarded by the Mailes' first scoring. Score—Mailes, 1 goal; Punahou, 0.

The ball was soon again in play and the Mailes renewed their attacks, but the call of half-time found the score unchanged.

SECOND HALF.

After a five-minute interval the teams changed over and the Mailes were again aggressive. For some time the Punahou defense was kept busy and the whole back division was given plenty of work. Catton in goal was often conspicuous but for some time kept his net intact with masterly defense. The Mailes were, however, not to be denied and the continual attack of their whole forward line led by Catterall and Churton was rewarded by a splendid shot of the former's finding the goal. Score—Mailes, 2 goals; Punahou, 0.

The Mailes were now confident of victory and the question appeared to resolve itself into the number of goals they could obtain. Their opponents were by no means disconcerted and played with renewed vigor. Only ten minutes remained to play and the game became fast and exciting. Waterhouse and Cockburn on the wings were doing valiantly, and Campbell was now playing a clever and determined game. From this time the Maile defense was hotly pressed and their goal again and again in danger. Only once did their forward line get possession of the ball in spite of the efforts of Catterall and Churton. Fiddes scintillated at times but from this time on the Maile attack became feeble. R. Catton, for the Punahou, held his forward line in splendid order and six minutes within time, after a series of masterly attacks beat the doughty McRitchie and scored the first goal for the Punahou amid great applause. Score—Mailes, 2 goals; Punahou, 1 goal.

Only a few minutes now remained to play and although the Maile center and wings once invaded the Punahou defense the ball was again soon in possession of the Punahou forward line. At length one minute before time Geo. Waterhouse after a speedy run cleverly centered, and Cockburn netted the ball again, amid great cheering. The game was at once resumed but the whistle was sounded and the final score was: Mailes, 2 goals; Punahou, 2 goals.

PUNAHOU DEFEATED

High School Wins 18 to 5--Kams Down Normals.

BY JESS WOODS.

Probably the largest crowd that ever witnessed a basket ball game in Honolulu was on hand yesterday afternoon to see the Normals and Punahou go down to defeat before the superior forces of the Kams and High School. The two best teams won and the defeated have only the consolation that they fought an up hill game, doing their best every minute. The Normals showed marked improvement over their game of last Saturday. Their team work and passing was far superior to the first game. If they can keep up this stride they will still figure in the championship race.

To the High School belongs the greatest honor of the day. These six athletic girls administered a defeat to the wearers of the blue and buff that the latter will be some time in forgetting. Their team work was the best seen this season and with their clever passing and catching they play a pretty game. There is no particular star in this team—they all play as one.

The one bad feature of the games is the continual fouling of the different teams. If this one fault were guarded against the games would be all that a spectator could wish.

KAMS VS. NORMALS.

"Rem" Harrison, the official time-keeper, blew the whistle promptly at 4 o'clock. Both teams appeared on the field in blue and white uniforms that made it difficult to distinguish which was which. The Normals won the first score on a free throw and encouraged by their lead played good, fast ball. The Kams fouled time after time and it was not long before the Normals had two scores in their favor. The first half ended with a score of 3-3, all the Normals' points being scored on fouls by the Kams.

At the beginning of the second half the Normals again took the lead. The Kams changed some of their players and seemed to improve. It was an even break for some time, the Kams playing faster and faster. When finally time was called the Kams had a total of 10 points to the Normals' 6. The teams lined up as follows:

KAMS.

Forwards—Mary Aka, Ah Moi Akul. Centers—Lillian Munden, Eliza Kahale.

Guards—Kalei Waiatu (Capt.), Emma Lewis.

NORMALS.

Forwards—Emelia Akeo, Edna Akau. Centers—Jennie Jones (Capt.), Riba Hanamaikal.

Guards—Cassina Speckman, Emma Pepelowski.

HIGH SCHOOL VS. PUNAHOU.

These two teams came on the field as if they meant business. It could be seen from the very first that the H. S. team was the favorite with the crowd and their work was loudly cheered. This game was a decided contrast with the first. The play was fast and clean, there being comparatively few fouls.

The H. S. took the lead by securing a goal on a free throw. The Punahou soon caught and passed their athletic rivals placing the score at 4-2. It was then that excitement ran high and the spectators became demonstrative and enthusiastically applauded the good work done by their favorites while the air rang with the school yells.

The pace set by the Highs was too fast for the college team and the black and gold gradually pushed ahead as they went. When the whistle blew the score stood 18 to 5 in favor of the black and gold. The score does not indicate the closeness of play which was highly exciting every moment.

The line-up:

HIGH SCHOOL.

Forwards—Hilda Smith, Mary Crewes (Capt.).

Centers—Elsie Smith, Hilda Robertson.

Guards—Josephine Stone, Agnes Akau.

PUNAHOU.

Forwards—Alice Roth, Ethel Taylor. Centers—Julia Damon, Irene Fisher. Guards—Catherine Goodale (Capt.), Ruth Waller.

Mrs. Hamilton acted as referee and proved a very satisfactory official.

Ralph Rose, the California giant who is breaking world's records in weight work at the University of Michigan, indignantly denied, in a recent interview the truth of the recent report that he was doing all his training with a view to meeting Jeffries in the ring. He brands the story as a rank fake and declares that it is his ambition to practice law.

Auto fests are preparing for the annual meet to be held in a few days at Ormond-Daytona Beach in Florida. After these races most of the buzz-wagons will go to Cuba where a three days speedfest will be held commencing February 29th.

M'FADDEN AND MODLIN AGREE

Jack McFadden, the little 'Frisco scrapper, and Geo. Modlin, the local favorite, have at last come to terms. For weeks these two lads have battled at long range, saying mean things of one another. It looked for a time as though everything was off and that they both were afraid to meet. Each exacted terms that he knew would cause a hitch.

The matter was finally adjusted when the two scrappers together with Joe Cohen met at Fred Kiley's and settled the affair for once and all. It was not without trouble, however, that Joe was able to secure the signatures of the little fellows.

"Now I am here to talk business," opened up Joe, "if you boys want to box I will make terms. We are willing to offer a good purse and if you do not accept I am through. I have done enough dickerin'."

"There is only one way in which I will fight," said Modlin, "and that is, 'winner take all.' If McFadden don't want to box under those conditions—count me out. All this talk about me being afraid is foolish. In fact if any one is afraid it is McFadden or he would agree to those conditions."

"You mean to say I am afraid of you," fired McFadden, "just to show you that I am right I will sign but you must weigh 131 pounds. I don't propose to box a heavier man for the entire purse."

It did not take long for Cohen to frame up a set of articles calling for the winner to take all the money. Both were still agreeable and placed their names at the bottom of the contract.

After warning one another to be in the best possible shape the men departed to meet again in the roped arena where their differences will be settled according to the Marquis of Queensbury rules.

McFadden will go into training at once at the new Honolulu Athletic Club while Modlin will work at Camp McKinley where he will have Ryan and others to box with.

This should be the greatest ring battle that has ever taken place in this city. These boys are evenly matched and it will be either man's fight up to the last tap of the gong.

Sailor Moreh, the fighting navy man, and "Young" Scott of the San Francisco Athletic Club will meet on the same night.

Football Smoker.

A fair sized crowd filled the H. A. C. gymnasium last evening and witnessed the program pulled off by the football boys.

There was wrestling by four Japanese wrestlers who put up some fast contests. This wrestling was something entirely new to the spectators and was much enjoyed.

Ernest Kaai was there with his staff of musicians and played some pretty selections.

McFadden, Scott, Woods and Silva furnished the boxing.

Mike Patton and Gene Allen did stunts which took the house.

The whistling newsboy made a hit. It was his first public appearance and he made good.

Sportlets.

Harvard University has secured a Japanese instructor to teach jiu-jitsu in Hemenway gymnasium.

Dick Hyland and Frankie Neill have been matched for a fight in San Francisco the last of the month.

And now Andy Mulligan of Hot Springs claims to have been the "discoverer" of "Battling" Nelson.

D. L. Reeves, sporting editor of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, is the new secretary and treasurer of the Philadelphia Nationals.

Great activity in college basket ball for women is reported in the States. The game has passed out of the experimental state and big public inter-collegiate games will be the next step.

Sharkey is said to be pining to get back to the padded ring. He wants to fight Corbett. Fitzsimmons' fists are also itching for the mitts according to the latest reports. It is hard to break a scrapper from the scrapping habit.
